Well we are slowly getting back on our feet.

Oblivion mods is the most restored site from the RPG mods network for now. People are working hard on NWN2, Fallout 3 and of course our Gothic 3 mods section to be restored to its full glory. There are some glitches to be dealt with on all the sites, but in general everything is running smooth.

In fact things are going so well that at peak times of the day, the server is getting a little overloaded. We'll have to do some serious capacity planning before Fallout 3 is released and people start sharing their mods on our network. We have some contacts at hosting companies who have already pledged to help us out.

Many people are putting their hands together to restore what once was thanks everyone for your help. And remember, if you are a mod developer, please submit your mods to our sites.

Axe Webmaster of the RPG Mods network.
